Cancer Benefit Dinner Featuring
Jim Hanifan Raises $150,000 for Local Charities

ST. LOUIS, December 19, 2007 — The 38th Annual St. Louis Men's Group Against Cancer raised over $150,000 at a charitable dinner featuring Jim Hanifan as keynote speaker. The dinner took place recently at Meadowbrook Country Club in Ballwin. KYKY-FM on-air personality Guy Phillips, a member of the Men's Group Against Cancer, was the master of ceremonies for the dinner.

Former head coach of the St. Louis Cardinals and Atlanta Falcons, Hanifan was offensive line coach of the St. Louis Rams from 1997-03. Hanifan now is part of the Rams radio broadcast team and hosts a weekly show on KLOU-FM St. Louis

The St. Louis Men's Group Against Cancer will announce and present its next series of grants during its 2008 annual luncheon, to take place in May.

Net proceeds from events like the group's annual dinner go to cancer-related charities in the St. Louis area. The St. Louis Men's Group Against Cancer has raised more than $2 million for the support of cancer prevention, patient care and research. The group has provided funds to nearly 20 St. Louis-based organizations that serve cancer patients and their families.

The St. Louis Men's Group Against Cancer is a non-profit, charitable organization that raises money for research, prevention and care for cancer patients and their families.
